Math

Drill your children daily 3-5 minutes it will show results in a short time. go to www.mathplayground.com for great math games

Writing

Writing is a basic necessity for success in school and in life in our culture. Writing little notes and placing them in lunch bags, under the pillow, near their plate at the table will encourage writing. Details must always be part of the writing. For example: The snow looked like whipped cream sitting on the fence.- This sentence is powerful! Don't accept - It snowed. or There is snow on the fence.

Reading

It is better to read 10 minutes everyday than 40 minutes at one time. The way to be a better reader is to read. It is a skill that demands practice.
